Rebellettes Win Close One 33-31

An action packed game was played by the Rebelettes as they took their fourth straight victory from the Nelson Governettes.

The Governettes and the Rebelettes took turns at holding a two point lead. The triller was a battle to the wire and when the final buzzer sounded, the Governettes seemed to have a sure 28 to 26 points victory but the Rebelettes still had hope. Mary Libby Tolley was awarded two free throws which she handled like a pro. These two points made by her tied the game and forced it into a three minute overtime.

The Rebelettes made the most of this opportunity to outscore the Governettes and win 33 to 31.

The game scoring honors went to Betty Sue Hodock of the Governettes with 19 points. Mary Libby Tolley with 17 points and Judy Smith with 9 points were the high scorers for the Rebelettes.

Allen L. Harris Aboard Glacier

USS GLACIER (AGB-4) (FHTNC) — Dec. 9 — Engineman First Class Allen L. Harris, USN son of Mrs. Tandy D. Harris, of Route 1, Appomattox, was aboard the icebreaker USS Glacier when she broke ice for a shipping channel to McMurdo Sound, Antarctica, during "Operation Deep Freeze "65."

The icebreaker broke 19 miles of ice in 14 days and heralded the earliest ship arrival in "Deep Freeze" history. She also broke ice for a mooring basin for tankers and supply ships which followed her through the ice.

She will now escort additional ships through the channel. While breaking ice, the Glacier also performs a variety of research missions including oceanography and environmental research.

"Operation Deep Freeze" is a scientific research exercise conducted by the United States Antarctic Research Program and the New Zealand Department of Scientific and Industrial Research.

Town Budget

a new fire truck sometime in the future.

The Mayor thanked the finance committee, Holland, H. B. Pack, and T. R. Gilbert, for their work. Another vote of thanks was recorded for the work of Creed Elliott, member of the Hankins and Anderson engineering firm, for his extra hours of supervision and advice on the sewage lagoon project.

Costs for the lagoon, now standing at about $25,000, are running approximately $15,00 less than estimated.

Payments on Bonds

Water Works construction bond still outstanding total $25,000, according to Town Manager Hunter. Five more payments over the next seven years will retire the thirty year old bonds, he said.

There is $5,000 still owed on Sewage Plant construction bonds said Hunter — with a current indebtedness total of $30,000.

Increase In Water Bill

Forty - two households using water outside the town limits who have been billed at the rate of $3.25 per month minimum (same as town residents) will be notified shortly of an increase to $3.60 the same rate as other out-of-town users are currently being charged.)

Council explained that the discrepancy in rate came about several years ago, and that the Council feels that all out-of-town users should be charged equally.

Well in Future

Dr. Lawson asked councilmen to be thinking ahead to the day when Appomatox may need additional water supplies. "Our storage capacity is adequate," he said, "but we do need to think about possibly drilling another well."

Traffic Cases

Eleven traffic violations in November cost motorists a total of $425.50 in town court last month.

One building permit was issued to R. A. Sears and Co. for an addition to a house owned by the company.

Tobacco Market

the annual summary of the U. S. Crop Reporting Board released on December 18. This is a little more than indicated a month earlier and would be 61 per cent larger than the 1963 harvest. Total fire-cured production of all types in all states is expected to reach 53,677,000 pounds.

The Farmville Tobacco Market has auctioned 2,126,706 pounds of leaf returning growers $948,190 for the three weeks of sales since the opening on December 1.

Last Thursday's sale was the last until market activity resumes January 11 after the three-week holiday closing.

When the general floor average for dark-fired tobacco remained above $45 for the third consecutive week this result broke all records. For the three 1964 auction weeks the averages have been: opening week, $45.04; second week, $45.62, and last week, $45.05.

Not since the 1956 crop has the market here had three consecutive weeks with averages in excess of $40. That year, the second, third and fourth weeks averaged respectively, $41.63; $40.-01 and $40.13.

Just Miss Million

Last week's auctions fell just 5,300 pounds short of reaching the million pound level. The 927,-842 pounds of dark-fired leaf, plus 66,778 pounds of sun-cured offerings gave a combined total of 994,620 pounds.

The record week of modern times here came in January of 1957 when the sales totalled 1,-143,128 pounds.

As a result of record prices, farmers have realized record returns for the number of pounds offered. Last week alone they received $417,994 for dark-fired leaf, and $26,661 for sun-cured leaf. That record week of 1957 produced $449,384 for growers, or about $3,000 more than last week, but that week seven years ago their offerings amounted to 148,568 pounds more. There was greater acreage allotted under the government controls program then.

Tobacco sales amounted to a mighty pleasant pre-Christmas farm activity for farmers, particularly coming after the poor, low-income crop of 1963 grown during a severe drought. A happy farmer phrased it well to a Herald reporter on one of Farmville warehouse floors last week. He summarized 1964 to date this way: "When you're getting more for your tobacco than you ever have before, what can you say but that it's just fine!"

Darkleaf

Brightleaf and me as "Editors Emeritus." I am grateful, and hope there will be a generous helping of "emeritus" in our "emeritus." He also listed my "zip code" number, which I am confident was helpful to the holiday - rushed postal clerks. Thus far I have been reluctant to hand out my "zip code" number. Mainly, because my personal sleuth, Operator 3 says he does not know the meaning of "zip code." He says he knows about "zig" and about "zag" but he meditates about "zip." If'em they keep it in a secret "code" the only thing he can think of is that it stands for "Zoological Interplanatary Phenomenon." Operator 39 says that if'en his number comes up to go zipping among the planets he prefers his own zipper, and if them thar Martians know his code number they may clobber him before he reaches the Moon, and Old No. 39 says that not even LBJ has found an RPD Carrier for the Moon Route anyway.

Oh well, I figure Bro. Lloyd Vaughan is going to have a tremendous Christmas issue this week and will need lots of copy. And let me commend those fine business people who are placing Christmas Greeting notices in this issue. It's a nice way of saying "thank you." And so I will write a bit more, with your kind indulgence.
